

Welcome to Equine Savvy Ltd

We are a community of horse lovers, who are passionate about training our horses whilst preserving their dignity, emotions and freedom of choice. We will hold our boundaries to ensure the safety of our horses and their humans. We are focussed on training our horses minds initially, to allow us to be able to help them through their emotions and physical tension.

We believe every horse should be taught, what we call 'LIFE SKILLS", these are everyday situations that your horse may find themselves in and if not properly introduced in a way your horse can understand, they usually lead to behaviours that either frustrate or scare their humans.

First we build a language so that you can effectively communicate with your horse. Once this is established, we use this shared dialogue to work through behavioural issues and build confidence, trust and respect in each other. This then creates a solid foundation to allow you to train for any discipline or just simply have fun together.

What will my first few lessons entail?

Lesson 1;

Your first lesson will be 2 hours, this will not necessarily all be with your horse. This longer session allows us time to talk to you to understand any immediate concerns you have or issues you would like us to address. Followed by (when appropriate) simulations to give you time to practice the skills with your instructor that you may need, without the complications your horse may add. Then plenty of time to address the initial issues with your horse and to begin a language that you can both rely on. You will also have plenty of time to ask questions throughout your session. Finally you will be left with some appropriate tasks to practice before your next session.

Lesson 2/3;

Will be 1.5 hrs long. They will initially start with a chance for you to let us know how you have got on with your homework tasks and answer any concerns you may have with them. Before getting your horse out to work on the next appropriate steps. By the end of the 3rd session (unless you have big behaviour issues) you should have the basic language formed that we use for absolutely everything we do. It will still need practicing regularly to solidify the new skills and habits for you and your horse, but you will be set up with the toolkit you need to succeed.

Online support; How can this help?

Claire has been teaching online support classes since Covid. She understands how hard it can be to take all the new information in when you start anything new. So Claire has invited all the new students with this package to join her online each month as she teaches horsemanship concepts and answers questions from her equine community. You can participate with your own questions or just listen and enjoy the relaxed atmosphere of fellow horse lovers. The online programme is designed to assist with simple behaviour issues, eliminate confusions and guide students on their next achievable steps on their pathway to success. It also allows students to feel supported and part of a successful community.

What else do we offer?

Claire runs many courses at the Equine Savvy Centre, near Witham, XC Courses and at Beechwood Equestrian Centre throughout the year.

Topics include

- Rider position,
- Liberty Prep & Advancing,
- Foundation to Advanced Riding Skills,
- Bareback & Bridlleless,
